

Eric Green

Eric Green started 19 games at cornerback over the past two years and is thought to be more valuable this season. In 2008, he started 9 of 13 games and has helped his team reach the NFC championship game. In 2007 Eric was a major contributor starting at cornerback in 11 games for the Cardinals' 2007 season. He finished the 2007 season with a total of 51 tackles, 47 solos and 8 pass defenses. In 2006, he led the team with 13 passes defended. Eric brings a ball hawk mentality to the Cardinals secondary. During his rookie campaign in 2005 he recorded 41 tackles and his first career interception. His significant contribution helped the 2005 Cardinals finish 8th in overall defense. He also had a stellar career at Virginia Tech before being drafted by the Arizona Cardinals in 2005. Eric credits his faith and family for helping him through an ACL tear in college. Eric's fun-loving and energetic attitude make him a delight to speak to and great with kids.
