

Brock Gutierrez, OL, Detroit Lions

After 10 thriving seasons in the NFL, Brock has many experiences and much advice to offer camp participants. He began his career in 1996 with the Cincinnati Bengals. With the Bengals he saw the field as a center and often played on special teams. In 2003, Brock joined the San Francisco 49ers, where he played in all 16 games and had 7 starts as center. His success continued with the team and in 2004 he had a career high of 15 starts at center and again played in all 16 regular season games. 2005 was Brock's last season in the NFL, which he spent with the Detroit Lions, again playing in all 16 games.

Brock is helping coach the camp this year for the third time and it is not hard to see why all the participants love him. His charisma and vibrant personality inspires everyone around him to be the best they can be.
